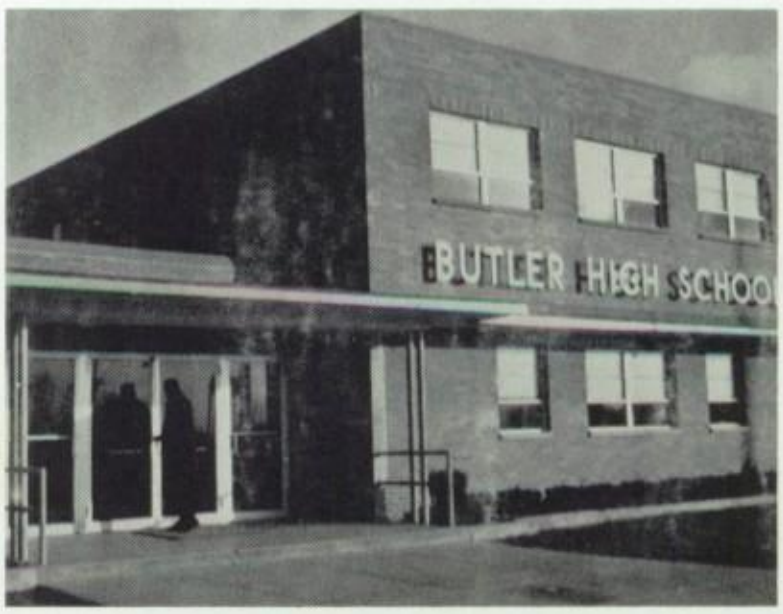
FOREWORD

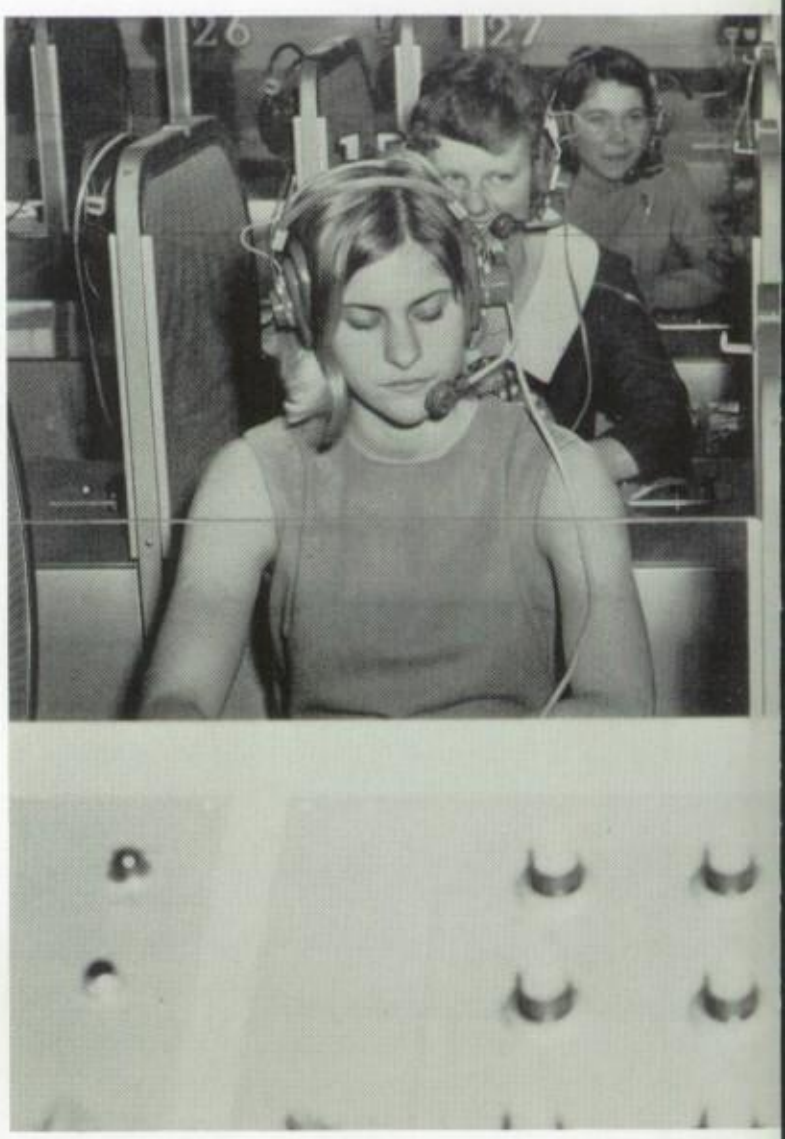
The Earth, under such dynamic forces as wind and rain, changes as the seasons sweep through time. Accompanying shades of change are progress, improvement, and the unknown to be explored.

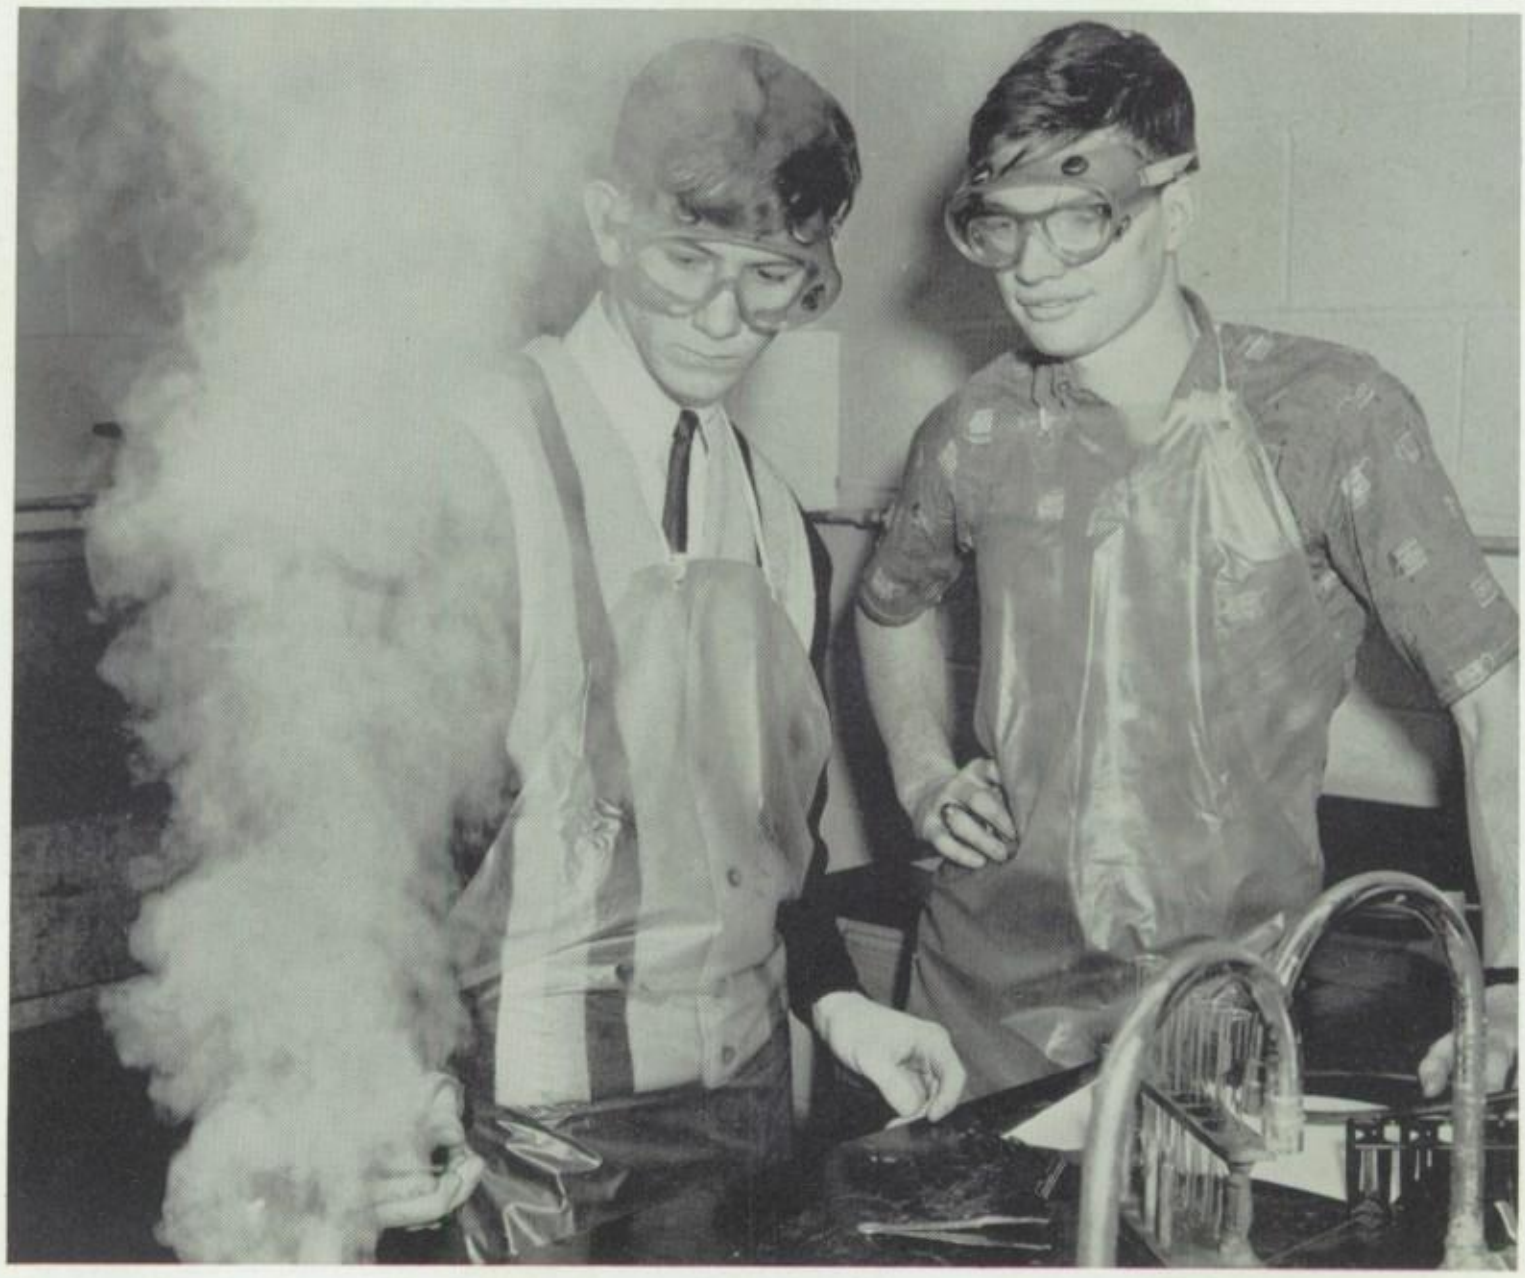
Butler High School, too, has passed through another season, changing with time, gaining new leadership, progressing. This book is a record of this passage of time from 1964 to 1965.



Experience in high school, its worth and benefits, depends on one condition: student-teacher relationships. When a teacher exists as an example of guidance, there is willing respect and obedience; when a teacher exists as a source of knowledge, there is an eager quest for that knowledge. As long as there are such teachers, students will exist in tremendous quantities and qualities.

STUDENT-TE

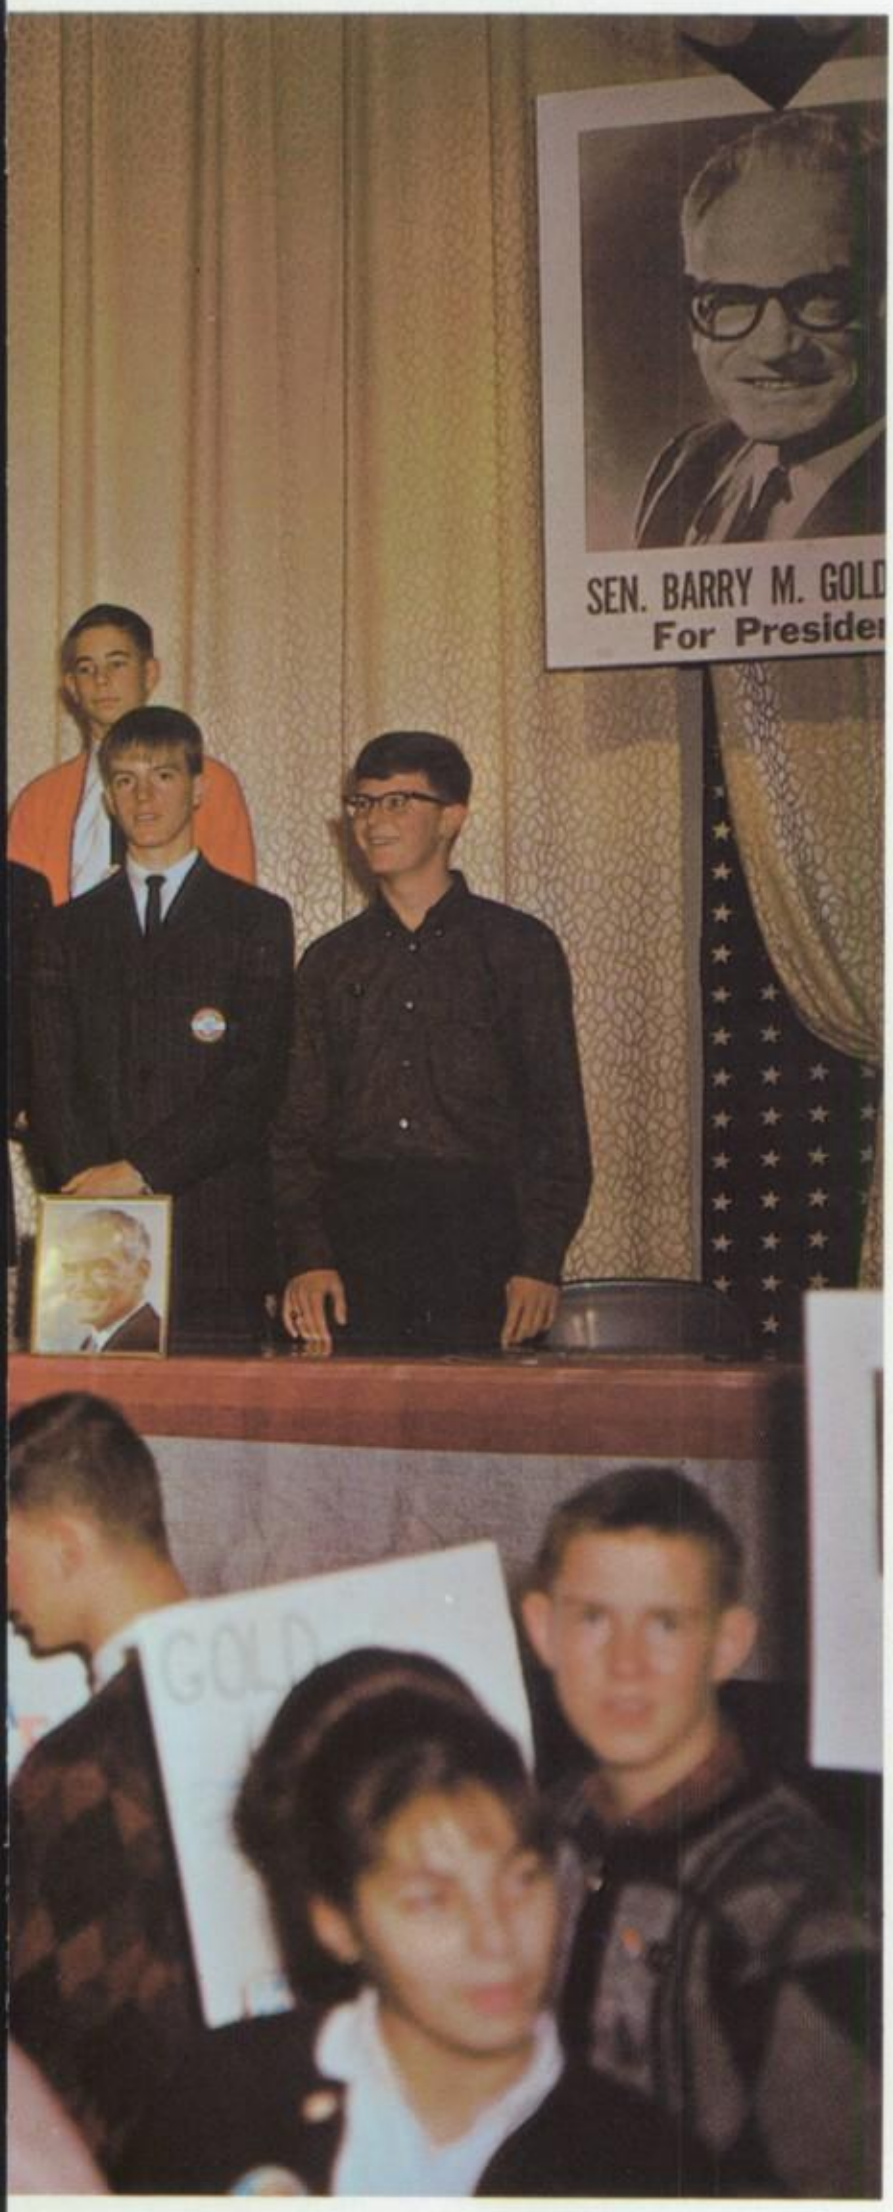




ACHER RELATIONSHIP VITAL TO LEARNING

POLITICAL PHILOSOPHY AND ASSE

MBLY PRECEDED MOCK ELECTION



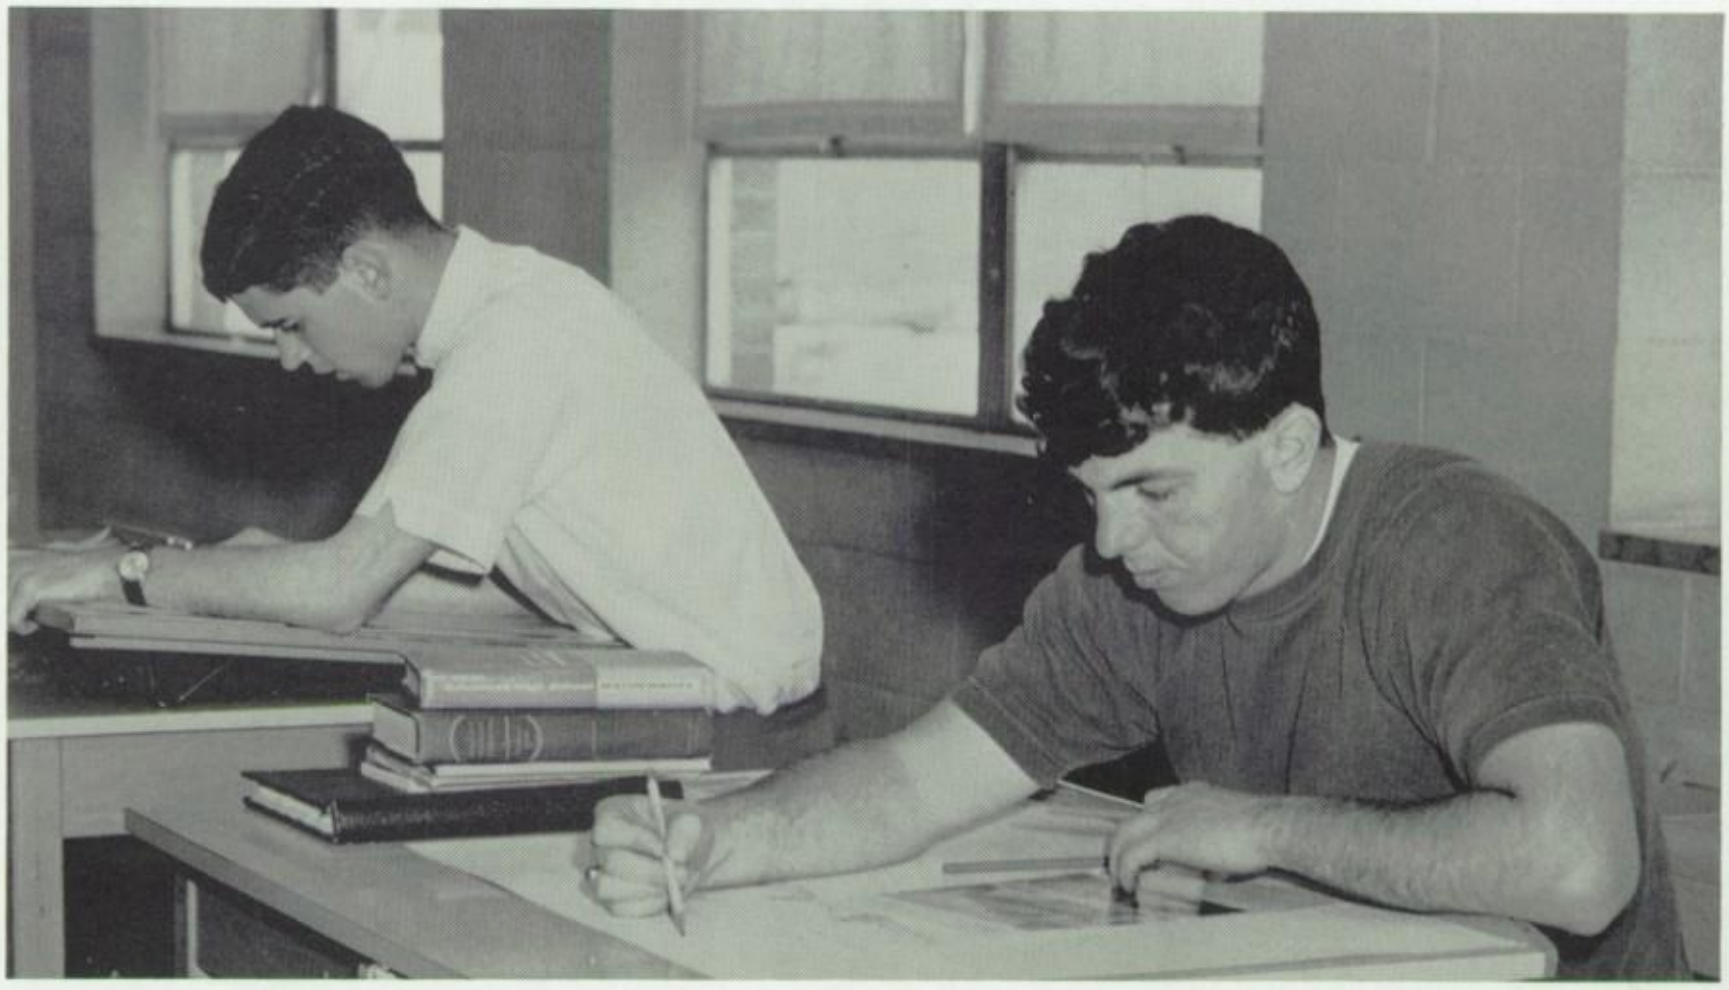
With party chairmen shaking hands, the Executive Committees looking on, and loyal supporters below, the Campaign Assembly draws to a close.

It shut a book of speeches, political philosophy, and propaganda; it drew the curtains in preparation for a greater display of choice: The Mock Election.

Its purpose was accomplished: the students present had a chance to hear both sides, had an opportunity to decide what course was best for the country in which they must live and die. . . .

This picture is a testimonial to the active interest students possess in the area of future America, the importance of informed minds to the future of democracy.

STUDENTS WORKED AND



PLAYED WITH ONE GOAL

HOMECOMING . . . 1965

TEAHOUSE OF THE AUGUST MOON

Although it is an establishment for study, athletics, and more study, the High School has become a center for the social activity of the student, also.

These activities lend excitement and color to the school year. Two outstanding events are Homecoming, and the many plays which are presented by the active Dramatics Department.

HALLS TO CLASS

Surrounding the halls of Butler High School and changing those halls to corridors toward knowledge and education, the classrooms are sometimes forgotten amidst the special events, the colorful assemblies, and exciting athletic encounters. Forgotten quickly are the useful hours of learning in the face of basketball games; gone are thoughts of rewarding discussions as thoughts of the day's extracurricular activities approach; and forgotten is the prime purpose, and its appreciation, of the classroom: its providing educational space for the learning student.

Through the windows of the classrooms comes light to illuminate the pages of books; on the green blackboards appear the days' lessons and assignments. But the indefinable qualities are present also: the tensing in the air, the quick silencing, as a test nears the desks; the struggle of minds over intangible problems; and the quick thrill of triumph as conquering minds go to challenge greater works.

The classrooms become the backbone of the school, encasing educational personnel and the educational heart of the school and providing the volume of the school itself. The classrooms, so often overshadowed by subjects taught and activities within the school, are the unique and most valuable part of school. The classrooms become the part where school is created, both physically and in spirit.

THE THRILL OF VICTORY, THE AGONY OF DEFEAT

. . . And still the balls bounce, the cinders fly, and the fields are perforated with spikes and footprints.

The inevitability of victory or defeat persuade none to abandon high school athletics. It is the thrill of competition, the satisfying physical contact, and the immense benefits of team work and individual effort that lure the high school boy to the fields, courts, and tracks.

But don't let anyone say that victory or defeat don't matter, that competition alone is important. Not after a hundred yards of sprinting full force, not after three sets of grueling tennis, and especially not after a close defeat in a basketball game! The outcome is the grade of the athlete, and it is his effort which gives him the rating.

The outcome is never final. There is another race, another game, and always another day to improve. And with the prior experience and satisfaction, the effort will be much easier.

FACULTY

Amid the rooms and halls, books and pencils, there stands a group whose duty to serve and willingness to help raise the school to the heights of efficiency and ability. This group is the administration and faculty, locked together in purpose and desire, principles and thought.

The door to guidance and order is always open to the student who wishes them; the door to education receives all who knock. The doorkeepers, able and spirited, are the leaders the students respect and approach. Indeed, a building of bricks and glass becomes a school with the presence of this admirable group.

NEW PRINCIPAL, DIRECTOR OF STUDENTS, BROUGHT CHANGES, FRESH IDEAS TO

DONALD HORTMAN, DIRECTOR OF STUDENTS

It took some time at the beginning of school for students to realize that they were to go to Mr. Hortman's office for early excuses. His daily check on attendance, resulted in a closer tab on high school students.

Mr. Hortman also was in charge of students whose good citizenship was in question and administered punishment as warranted.

Mr. Hortman worked with the Guidance Department in making out schedules.

BUTLER

HAROLD R. WHERRY, PRINCIPAL

Among the new faces at Butler this year was that of Mr. Harold Wherry, Principal. He came to Vandalia from Washington Court House where he was also principal.

Mr. Wherry came to Butler because he thought Butler High School has a good educational climate and he once commented that he was "very impressed" with the students.

With the help of the faculty and the student body, Mr. Wherry made a great contribution to the High School. It was not at all unusual to see him cheering enthusiastically during a basketball game, dropping into a classroom or club meeting unexpectedly, or overseeing tree planting.

Mr. Wherry stressed the importance of student-faculty communications, making the announcements himself (an activity which he thoroughly enjoyed) and kept the entire school well informed with numerous bulletins.

To those who brought honor to Butler High School, Mr. Wherry paid special tribute, through letters and other gestures.

Looking back to the year 1965, we feel Mr. Wherry has made great strides toward the unification of the students and faculty.

Mr. Wherry and Jot Matson paused to talk over some Student Council business.

THEY KEPT SCHOOL RUNNING SMOOTHLY

Thanks to their performance of myriad tasks, preparation of food, and transportation of the students from the far limits of the school district, the high school was kept in operation every day except one.

The staff members were COOKS: R. Mossbarger, M. Akers, Head Cook, S. Thompson, M. Henrickson, R. Laub, B. Elleman, B. Larson, E. Meyer, A. White, D. Shanks, W. Britton, A. Neeley, and B. Priest, not pictured.

BUS DRIVERS: P. Birchfield, G. Niswonger, R. Williams, G. Elkins, B. Ewen, A. Elkins, T. Karns, N. Miller, and R. Beal. KNEELING: K. Lawson, P. Jackson, M. Ratliff, M. Loughman, C. Elkins, J. Hall, A. Hall.

CUSTODIANS: D. Ward; J. Gilland; D. Staub, Head Custodian; A. Brewer; and H. Beason.

Mrs. Mary Waymire was Secretary to the Principal and Miss Linda Honeyman was Guidance Department Secretary.

WILLIAM M. WEST, Superintendent

Now completing his fourth year in the Vandalia-Butler community, Mr. West has seen the high school enrollment (grades 9-12) increase from 892 to 1205 and has witnessed the completion of the addition with its language laboratory and general instruction rooms as well as 12 classrooms at the beginning of the 1964-65 school year.

Now, in June of 1965, he can see work going on at Demmitt to staff and furnish the 12 room addition, at Murlin Heights where 15 rooms are being added, and at Morton Junior High where extensive remodeling is being done.

These necessary and timely changes could not be were it not for Mr. West, Mrs. Brown, the members of the Board of Education, and the taxpayers. Their foresight and thoughtful consideration make it possible for Education to continue in the Vandalia-Butler City School District.

COULD CONTINUE

Seldom seen by high school students and yet vitally necessary to their continued education were the secretaries and special service personnel whose offices were in the Administration Building.

Mrs. Helen Taylor, Secretary to the Superintendent; Mrs. Helen Bookwalter, Secretary to the Clerk; Mrs. Betty Brock, Purchasing Clerk; Mrs. Irene Geisler, Supervisor of Cafeterias; Mrs. Katherine Wade, Psychologist; and Mrs. Esther Jackson, Cashier, are pictured at their desks. Miss Janet Mace, Speech Therapist, and Mrs. Mary Balyo, School Nurse, are not pictured.

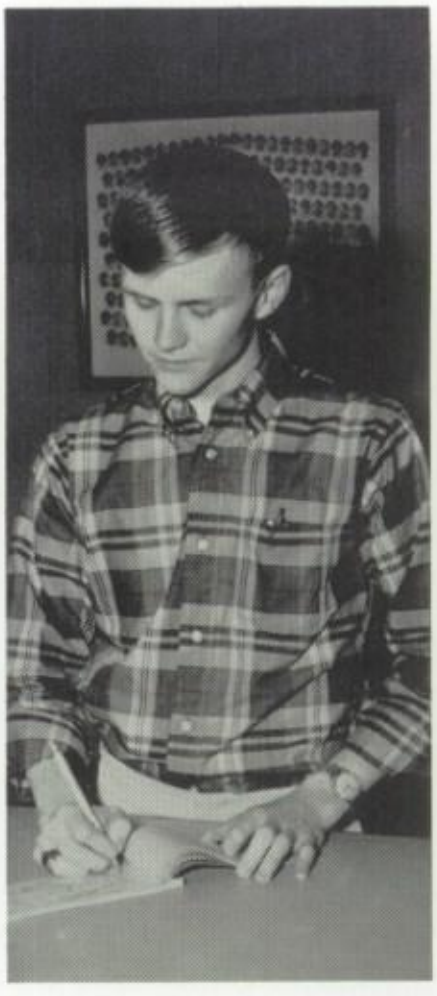
CLASSES

Through this hall of Butler High School pass the best students in the world. The seniors, who are looking to the future, have traveled it many times; even the freshmen have begun to learn its doors and rooms. Each student has walked through this hall on the path to higher education.

Each class in the high school symbolizes degrees of education and maturity; each day and month spent on education reaps dividends for the advancing student.

It is in this hall, therefore, that the classes of Butler High School hear the call to experience; it is in this school that the students heed the cry, "The door to education is the door to life."



Senior Class officers were president, Carol Covert; vice president, Mike Hall; treasurer, Dave Maxton; and secretary, Jackie Newsome.

SENIORS

Having passed through the many doors in Butler High School, the Senior Class of 1965 pauses at the final portal of high school education: Graduation.

Many are the memories of past years, and the events read like long lists of credits to a fine record: The Prom, the Variety Show, the Athletic superiority, and the excellent achievements in scholastic ability.

Still, the final door awaits, and life, too, moves and cannot wait for the past. Again the oft-repeated phrase, "The road of life is the future," rings with ageless wisdom. The Senior Class of 1965 has heard all, and will not tarry at this final door.

College, work, and responsibility sound a challenge that won't be ignored by this class, and that road of life will be traveled. This Class will not tarry at this door of graduation, ever.

PARENT PATRONS

The Vandalia Community has also shown a fine willingness to participate in this yearbook venture. In the same spirit that the students and business community have demonstrated, these parents have contributed more than money for the cause: they have given substantial mental support towards the successful completion of this record.

Senior emotions ranged from seriousness to silliness!

May I have yours?

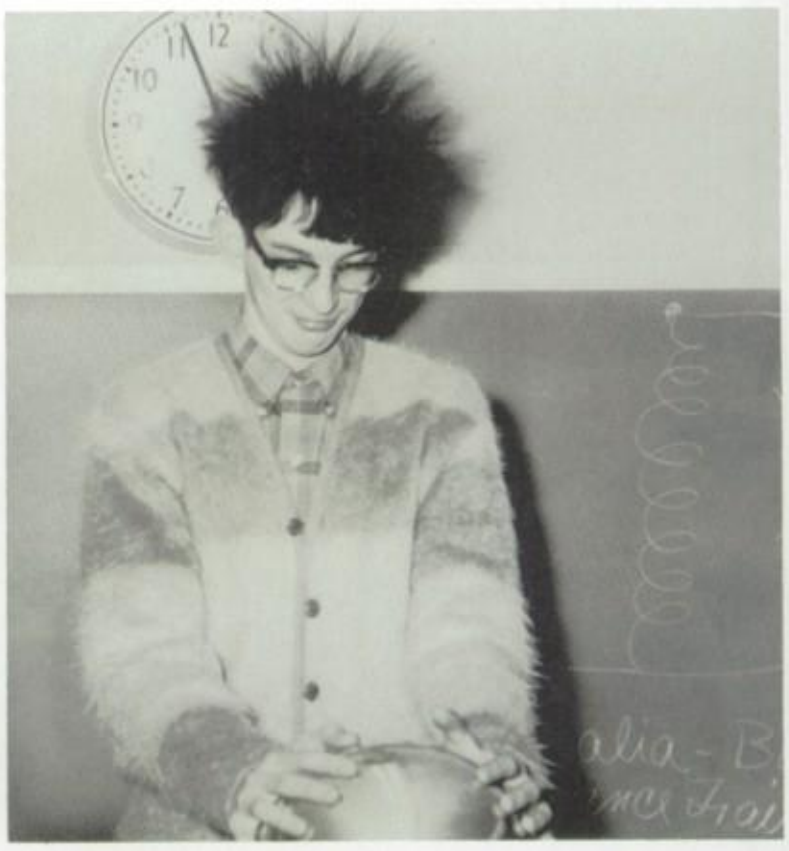
Marsha McDowell tried to find a place to stow away her Christmas exchange gift.

Senior Don Trisler showed Butler's Swedish foreign exchange student, Ann Hermansson, a Christmas message in English.

All work and no play made Seniors Jim Nash and John Tracy dull boys!

SENIORS

Seniors Ron Cannon, John Baker, John Dunlavy, Mike Hall and Kay Luciano seemed to be stumped with a problem concerning the Senior float for Homecoming.



Maybe Ron Cogar had the answer!

Butler Seniors purchased Senior pictures.

Seniors Carolyn Fessler and Sharon Beatty grinned like Cheshire cats over their typing.

Fold and connect flap A to flap B . . . Isn't that right? Carolyn Jackson, Rebecca Bullock, Sherry Gearheart, Cindy Miller, Pat Silver and Rita Balzuweit found diapering a baby (doll) an absorbing task!

Senior girls prepared for the future by studying business courses.

CLASS '65

Senior memories are both many and priceless!

Seniors Ruth Wheeler and Karleen Bill participated in Kid's Day.

Ann Hermansson, Butler's AFS sponsored exchange student, came to Vandalia from Nora Stad, Sweden for her senior year.

Ann enjoyed many social events, including the Turn-about dance. Her date for the evèning was Bob Lyons.

ANN HERMANSSON, EXCHANGE STUDENT

I want to thank you all for this wonderful year at Butler. I know it will be the most unforgettable experience of my life. When I am back in Sweden it will probably seem like a dream. Without your help this year would not have been so successful, and I cannot thank you enough for your understanding.

Through you I have learned of your customs and beliefs, but most important of all, I have learned that the American people are just as warm and friendly as my own people in Sweden.

With the memories of the education I received, and all the fun I had at Butler, with my many new found friends, and my wonderful American family, I will go back to Sweden and try to relate the experiences of this year.

I only hope I have contributed to the AFS program by bringing to you a better idea of the nature and customs of the people of my country, Sweden.

Ann Hermansson

By chance, Ann won the Great Pumpkin, given away at Halloween in an Aviator-Airlog contest.

Carol Covert, senior class president, greeted Ann, and her hostess, Jackie Newsome, on the first day of school.

JUNIORS

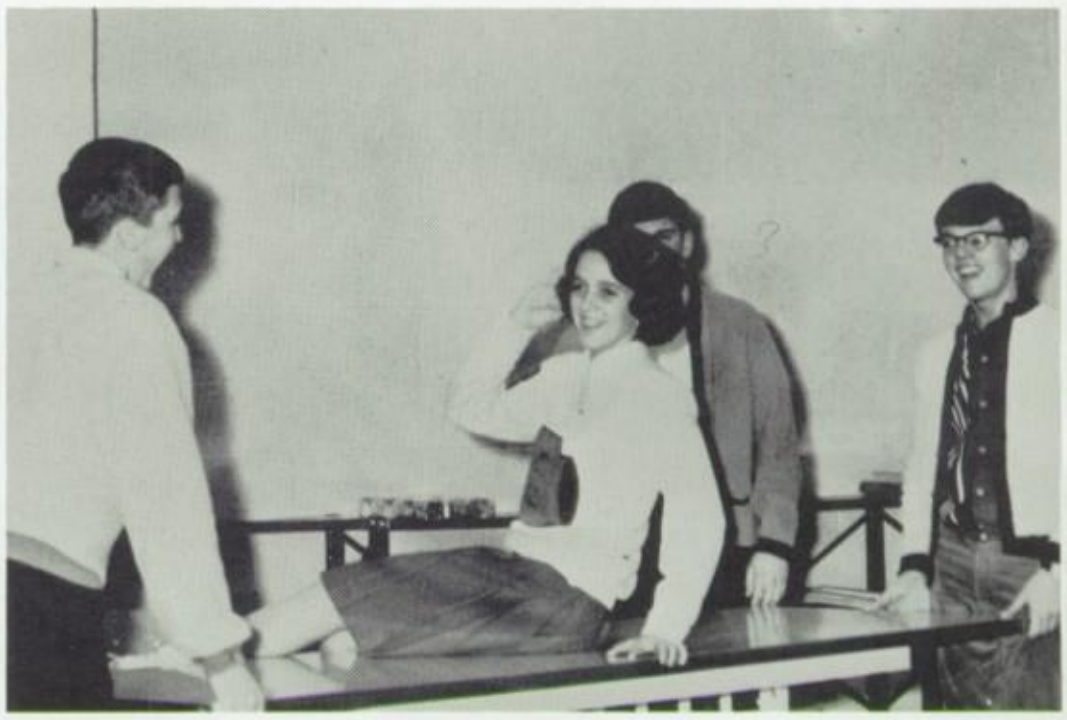
Girls of the Junior class "march" with progress as the new addition of the high school is completed.

Junior Marsha Foreman helps promote education by operating the batchgroover, which punches holes in report cards.

The Junior Homecoming attendants, Sally Marshall and Karen Blome, ride on the Junior float.

CLASS OF '66



Juniors, Gary Davis, Sally Marshall, Nick Schischiskij and Larry Covert help set up for Club. Really?!!!

Madeline Carvalho, Pat Conover, Diane Crouse, Sally Marshall, Molly O'Brien, and Nick Schischiskij find that discussion always brings a peaceful solution.

JUNIORS NOT PICTURED:

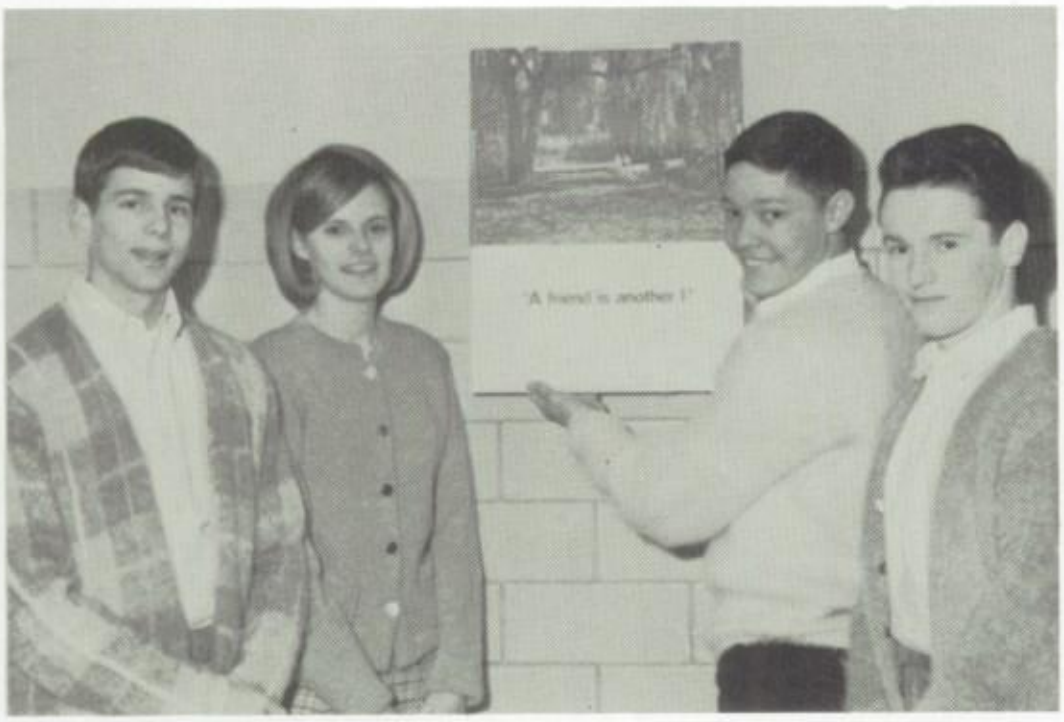
To have fun at Club after the game, one must apply "muscle and elbowgrease" after school!

SOPHOMORES



Accustomed to the feel of the high school, the sophomores have expanded their interests and activities, as shown in club enrollment, sport participation, and in school activities. With 306 members, this class ordered their rings in February, thus receiving the symbol of Butler High School.

Sophomore officers are: Tod Morris, president; Madelyn Scherer, secretary; Mike Kuck, vice-president; and Mickey Lingman, treasurer.

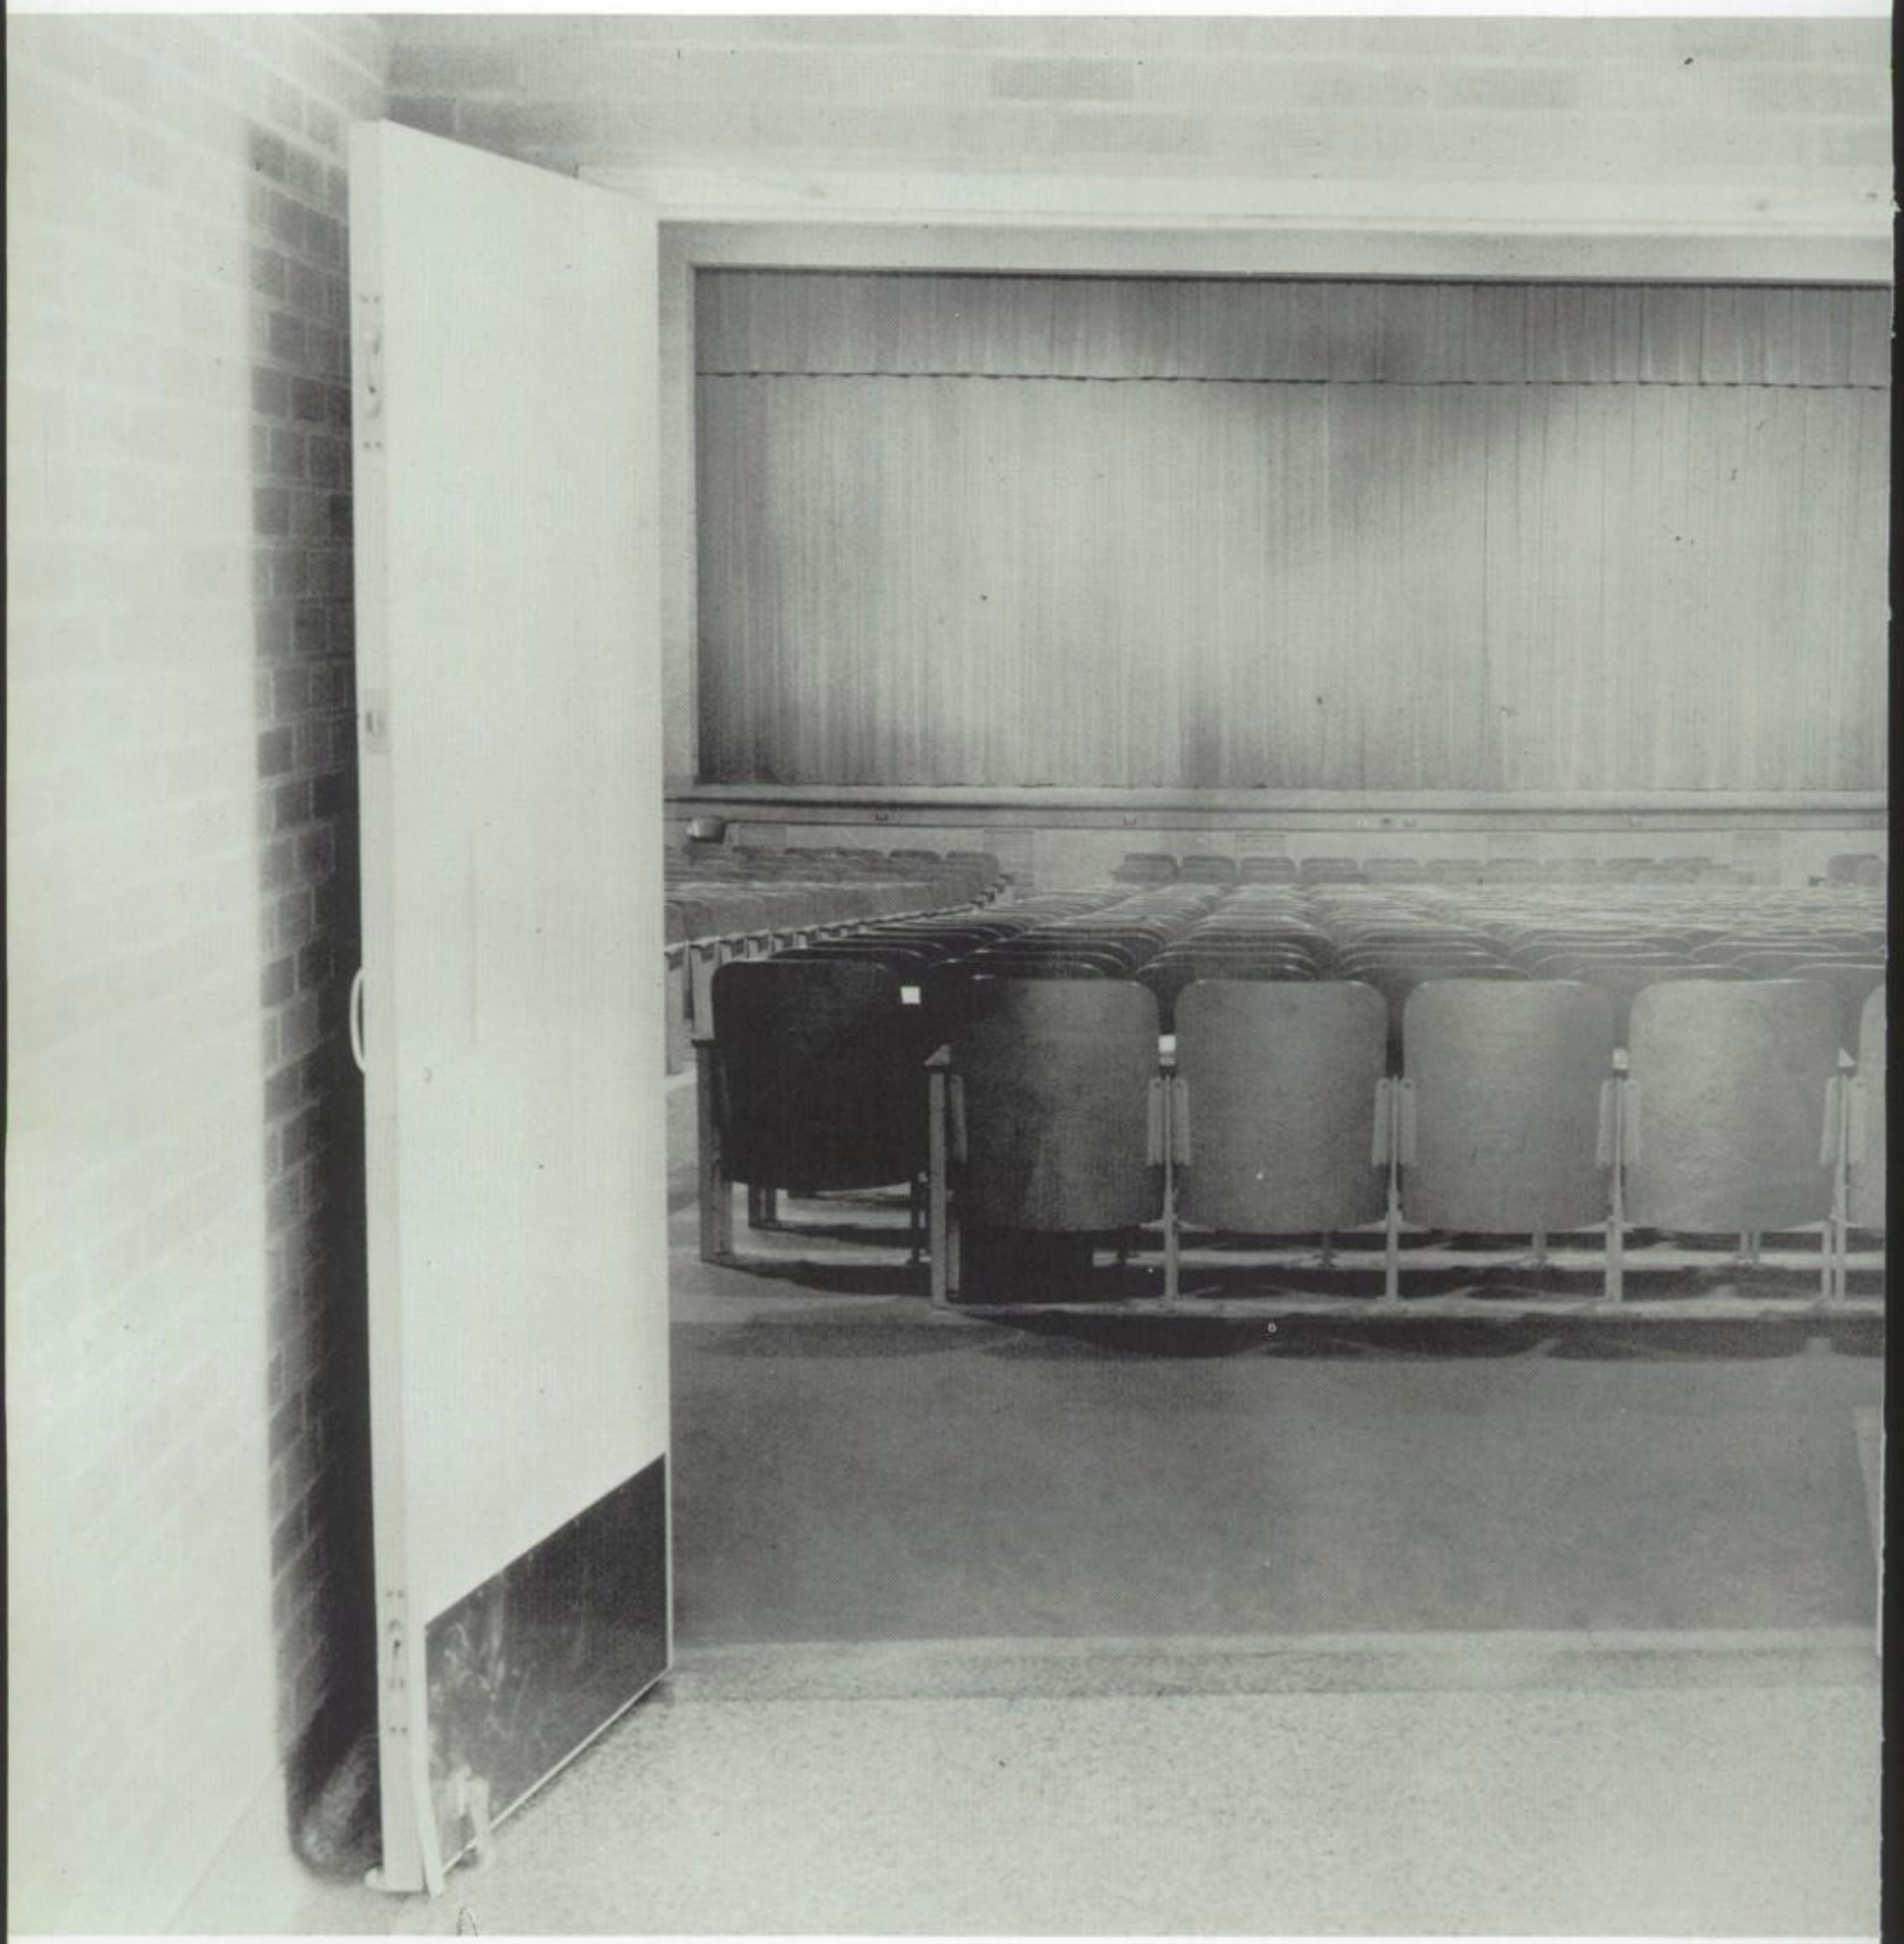
Freshman Cathy Conover didn't seem to mind the needle at all—in fact she looks almost—happy?

Freshman Bruce Haggard seemed to be saying, "Do you think it will hurt?"

Another Freshman, George Youngerman, bravely bared his arm to the needle.



SPECIAL ACTIVITIES

The special activities of a high school exist for the purpose of creating a door to complete education. It is because a student must be more than a book or a living computer that social and artistic events are needed to further his interest and experience.

Therefore, an active dramatics department contributes an entrance to talent and entertainment, and class- and group-sponsored dances provide for the social facet of the student's life.

Without these beneficial and necessary influences, a student would indeed lack total experience in high school.

The Queen reigns!

HOMECOMING 1964 was expanded from a single night event to an entire weekend affair. After the ceremonies were initiated by the customary bonfire Thursday night, the Butler Aviators triumphed over Brookville Friday night to assure a festive spirit. Queen Marcia was honored by a reception in the high school lounge after the game.

The first Homecoming Parade, complete with floats and class attendants, created much enthusiasm Saturday afternoon. That night alumni and students attended the annual Homecoming Dance at the high school.

The royal couple dances.

"WINTER CARNIVAL"

The traditional Senior Christmas Dance was held at the high school on December 5. The couples danced before a wintry mural depicting ski slopes and evergreen trees. Helping the Royal Pair, Virginia Moore and Jim Green, rule the festivities was a huge smiling snowman.

The Royal Couple—Ginny and Jim!

The Senior Court is composed of Mike Hall and Kay Luciano, Bob Jones and Paula McClusky, Queen Virginia Moore and King Jim Green, and Carol Covert and Chuck Steinke.

Steve Gahn, Ron Cannon, Linda Chubb, Darbie Harris, Nancy Stupp, and Larry Thompson relax between dances.

CUPID'S PARADISE

Queen Linda poses in the garden with King Jim.

The court included, besides the Royal Couple, freshmen, Sue Morris and Mike Scholz; juniors, Sally Marshall and Nick Schischiskij; and sophomores, Pat Slagle and Don Atherton.

Chaperones help serve refreshments.

The annual Y-Teen Turnabout Dance, held on February 13, was a huge success. "Cupid's Paradise" was complete with a garden and mural scenes for the enjoyment of the couples.

Linda Shroyer, the president of Y-Teens, was crowned queen and Jim Swearingen, her escort, reigned as King.

Faculty members, as well as students, attended the dance.

Couples enjoyed the music provided by the stereo.

THE "PROM"
1965 STYLE

The Climax . . .
Royal Couple Crowned!

The Beginning . . .

"The Prom"—Thoughts of many students had a way of turning toward that special dance scheduled one weekend in May. Juniors, especially, had that thought in mind as it was their planning and their working which resulted in the 1965 Junior Prom, " An Evening At Antoines."

Committees were formed early in the year and actual work began soon in the homes and in after school work sessions at the high school. Finally, on Friday before the "Prom", certain juniors were permitted to spend the day working in the Fieldhouse.

The whole affair reached its climax when the announcement of the Royal Couple was made. Paula McCluskey and Robert Jones reigned over the festivities for the remainder of the evening.

Paula being crowned by Allen Swigert, Junior class president's date.

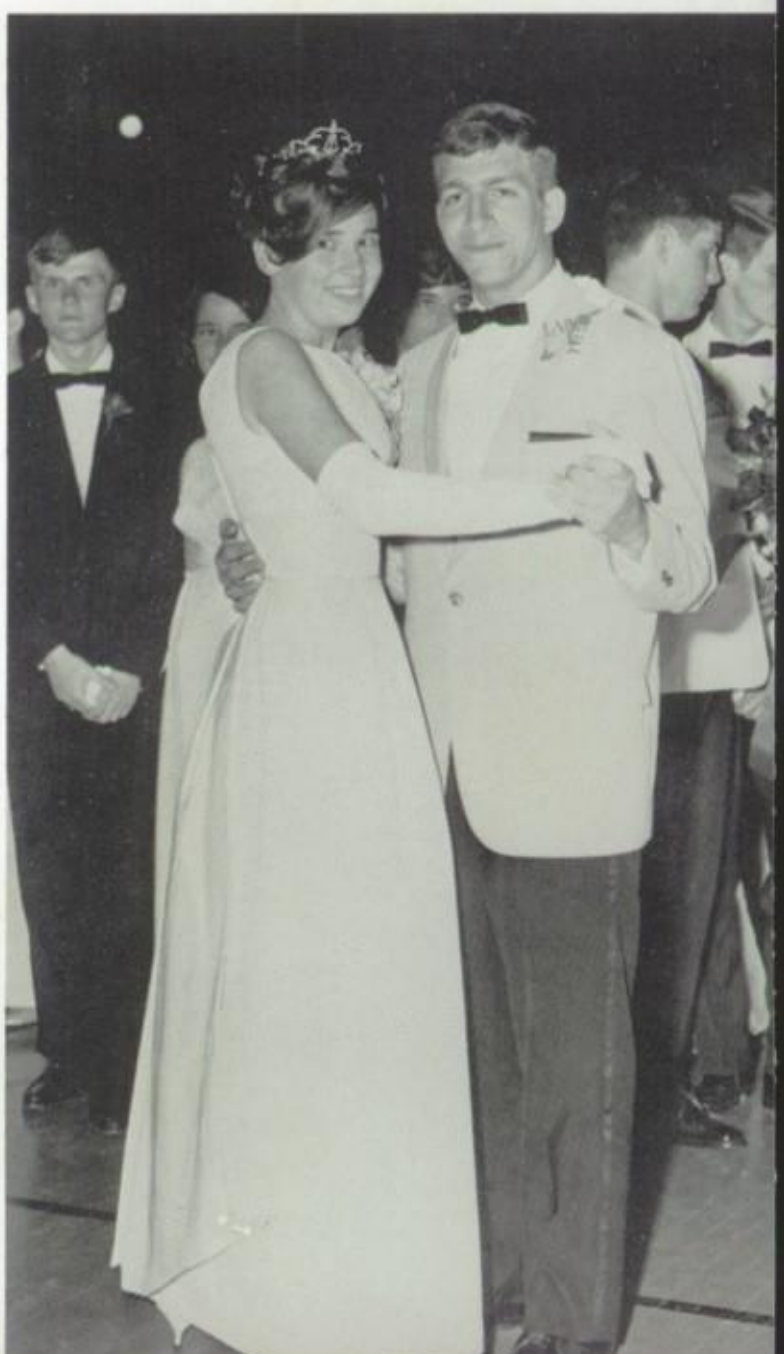
ROYAL COUPLE AND SUBJECTS

The royal kiss!

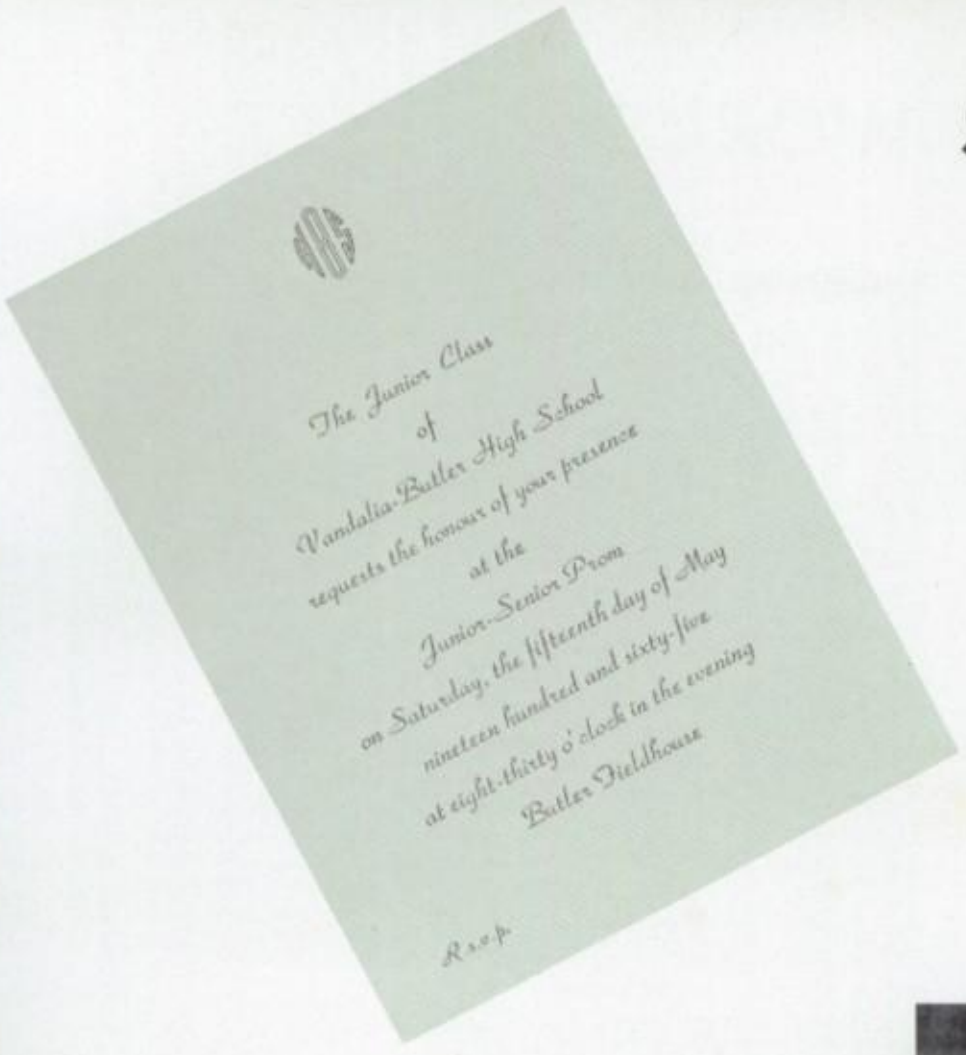
"An Evening at Antoine's" suggested the New Orleans mood of the Junior-Senior Prom which was held on May 15 at eight-thirty in the Butler Fieldhouse. Decorations included a light blue parachute ceiling.

Queen Paula and King Bob enjoyed their first dance as the reigning couple.



Superintendent and Mrs. West appeared to delight in dancing as did the students.

SENIORS' LAST DANCE



Seniors received invitations for the final school dance from the upcoming Class of '66. The Prom climaxed a year of hard work, numerous activities, and much fun. Many will cherish the memory of this magical night which successfully completed the social life of the school year.

Underclassmen served refreshments of punch and unusual bread pastries.

Couples whirled to music provided by the Donn Smith Orchestra.

Eagerly awaited refreshments!

THE MIRACLE WORKER

"The Miracle Worker," presented October 22 and 23, was one of the most moving and delightful plays ever attempted at Butler.

The cast, headed by Jamie Hager as young Helen Keller and Nancy Knuge as Anne Bancroft, was very effective in the play which required much dramatic action combined with touching dialogue.

Jamie and Nancy rehearse their tense struggle.

Karen Hansen as Kate Keller is reenacting the dinner scene with Nancy and Jamie. Mr. Walker aided the girls with their lines.

Helen discovered a companion, John Marshall.

Anne reflected upon her own dark childhood.

TEA HOUSE OF THE AUGUST MOON

Glamorous Japanese girls, blossoming trees, and a bridge that crossed over a lily filled pond characterized a most colorful production, "Teahouse of August Moon".

This comedy presentation concerned the difficulties that American Army Captain Fisby (Shanon Dunlap) faced when assigned to bring democracy and economic revival to a little village of Iinawaus.

Mike Roush was seen as the comedy's Oriental Sancho Panza, named Sankini, a ragged Okinawan employed as an interpreter.

Even the foyer of the Butler Theatre was Japanese in appearance.

THE SOUND OF MUSIC

"The Sound of Music" is a play situated in Austria during the years leading up to World War II. It is based upon the life of a young woman and her experiences as governess with the von Trapp family.

The Butler presentation was given on April 2 and 3 with a cast of over forty. The cast included children from the local elementary schools.

The Trapp Children and Maria

Children bid guests good night.

Maria upon arriving at the Trapp home learned the childrens' names.

Brigitta and Kirt greeted Max while Elsa remains silent.

Rolf told Lisel that he is much wiser in "You Are Sixteen".

TONIGHT'S THE NIGHT

Butler's first tri-production was "Tonight's The Night" given on February 5 and 6. This presentation included "The Doctor in Spite of Himself", "Not Enough Rope" and "The Brick and the Rose".

The first is a rollicking comedy centered around a man named Stanerelle, supposedly a doctor. "Not Enough Rope" was also humorous although the plot concerned a suicidal attempt. The third play was in a more serious vein dealing with narcotics and poverty.

Actors and actresses in "The Doctor in Spite of Himself" seem absorbed in the 'dramatic' action of the play.

Jazz kickline performs for Mr. Gilbert to "Comin' Home Baby."

Jim!

SENIOR TALENT SHOW

The Senior Variety Show, May 22, was a parody of the good old golden school days. Jim Swearingen, the director, developed a musical play that emphasized action rather than dialogue. In addition to those acts well received in the past, much fresh talent was revealed.

Donna McCluskey and Anita Kline to "Steam Heat."

Majorette Pam Breeding displays her twirling ability.

Mr. Knickerbocker is given tribute by this group as they sing "The Man Who Never Returned—Mr. K."

The College Panel helped students prepare for higher education at Christmas-time assembly. Panel consisted of J. Murray, M. Nicely, J. Sayre, C. Irwin, and M. Gyles.

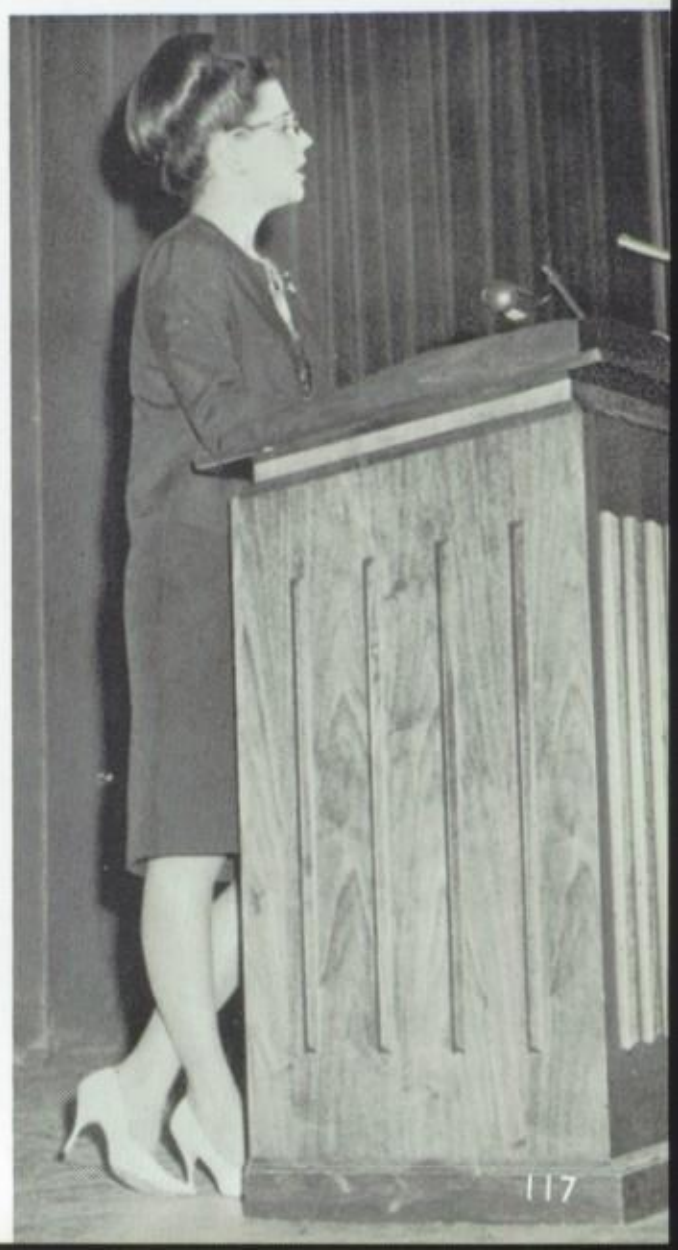
Football team led cheers at pep session—Victory, Victory!

The Dayton Junior League Youth Forum discussed the ethics used in modern advertising. Two Butler students, D. Lapenas and J. Matson, were asked to take part. Anita Hoyer was a regular member.

STUDENT BODY JAMMED AUDITORIUM FOR ASSEMBLIES

Assembly speakers were assured a packed house this year, for the student body not only filled the auditorium seats but even overflowed into the aisles. Freshmen rapidly learned the discomforts of folding chairs!

The assemblies included pep sessions, a JCOWA U.N. lecture, a Youth Forum discussion, a College Panel, an interesting talk on "Manners", music programs, a Mock Election assembly, an AFS program, and several other gatherings.



Nancy Staas (nee Kesling) spoke of AFS.

Virginia Moore displays her table setting received with the Silversmith's of America Award.

Mr. Gilbert presented Dallas Dunlap the Charles Palmer Davis Award which is given to the outstanding student in foreign affairs.

The Senior Awards Assembly was held on May 27 at 7:30 in the Butler High School Auditorium. Parents as well as students were invited to this event followed by a reception in the student lounge. Wednesday morning, June 2, culminated the year's honors as the final Awards Assembly was presented.

Five seniors; Alan Donelson, Dallas Dunlap, Doug Finch, Anita Hoyer, and Terry Voress, were National Merit Finalists. Doug Finch, a National Merit Scholar, received a Trans World Airlines scholarship. Those receiving letters of commendation were Marsha McDowell and Dana Taylor. The top students in the Ohio General Scholarship Tests were Jim Brock, Doug Finch, Anita Hoyer, Marsha McDowell, and Terry Voress.

Sallie Lang received the Betty Crocker Homemaker Award. Virginia Moore was the recipient of the Silversmith's of America Award. Orr Elkins and Stanley Weber were given scholastic art awards, while John Tracy received the Scholastic Art Purchase. Mr. Gilbert presented Dallas Dunlap the Charles Palmer Davis Award which is given to that student with a great deal of interest and knowledge in current events.

The various PTA Scholarships went to Gennell Relford from Murlin Heights, Karen Slagle from Vandalia Elementary, and Sharon Strauch from Demmitt. Mike Hall was awarded the Philip M. Hutchins Memorial Scholarship sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Robert Neely received the OAPSE Scholarship.

The Arion Award for Band was given to Jim Swearingen while Jackie Newsome received the Chorus Arion Award.

National Merit Finalists!

Mr. Hollon awarded Dave Hutchins a trophy for football.

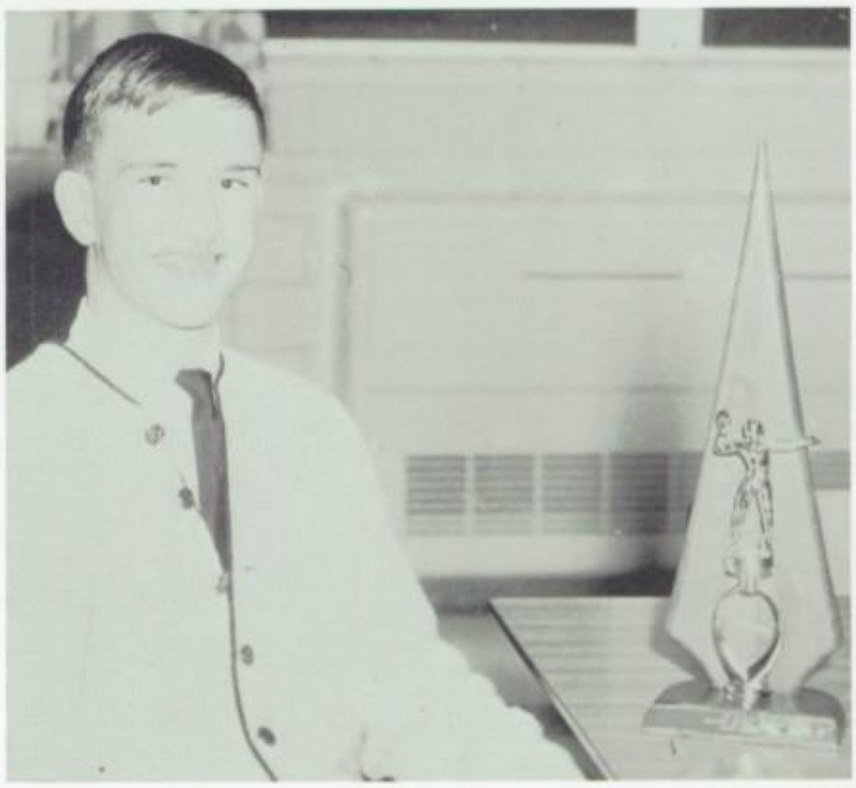
At the Thespian Banquet held in the school courtyard Mike Roush was honored as best actor for his performance in "Teahouse of the August Moon", Nancy Knuge was chosen best actress for her portrayal in "The Miracle Worker". Supporting actor was Steve White and best supporting actress was Jamie Hager, both in the preceding plays.

Molly O'Brien and Madeline Carvalho attended Girls' State at Capital University. Mike Snyder and Bob Hey were the junior boys who went to Boys' State at Ohio University. Molly O'Brien was also selected a member of the 1965-66 Dayton Daily News Youth Forum.

Those receiving State Board of Education Awards of Distinction were Karleen Bill, Alan Donelson, Doug Finch, Sharon Foster, Anita Hoyer, Jake Snyder, Neil Timson, and Steve Von Mohr.

Fourteen Butler seniors received scholarships to various universities. Doug Finch also was awarded a University scholarship to Brown, in addition to the TWA. Virginia Moore received two scholarships, one from Dayton Power and Light and an Honors Scholarship from Ohio University. Joe Matson won a President's General University Scholarship from Ohio State University. Dave Hutchins has accepted an Athletic Scholarship for football from Miami University. Don Lapenas is going to Massachusetts Institute of Technology on a Freshman Competitive Scholarship and Terry Voress to Case Institute of Technology on a similar grant.

Alan Donelson and Anita Hoyer received an Alumni Gift Scholarship and an Honorary Scholarship, respectively, from Earlham College. Dallas Dunlap and Larry Thompson were awarded Wittenberg Alumni Scholarships. Jim Brock received a Drake University scholarship and Carol Covert a Bowling Green Alumni Association scholarship. Linda Gertz and Chris Roush were among 12 chosen for Sinclair College Scholarships.



Gary Shaw with his trophy given by WING for being chosen football "Player of the Week".

Bob Hey and Jim Snyder represented Butler at Boys' State held June 10 through 18 at Ohio University.

Linda Long and Connie Peters displayed the first place award for best single entry in the Dairy Council nutrition contest.

Molly O'Brien and Madeline Carvalho attended Girls' State held June 19 through 27 at Capital University.

The 264 Graduates sang the Alma Mater.

Many activities and events preceded Commencement exercises. Seniors were honored at the Senior Awards Assembly, May 27; the Senior Breakfast brought the Class of 1965 together once again for a final meeting; and before the solemn pageantry of graduation, the meditative Baccalaureate services of June 2 took place in the High School auditorium, giving the graduates a chance to pause and rededicate themselves to personal goals and principles.

The Reverend Messrs. George Waldon and Ted Blumenstein assisted in the service.

Ruth Wheeler proudly accepted her diploma from Richard Cannon.

SPORTS

It is in high school that the world of athletics is opened. From organized team recreation to active competition in leagues, each student has the opportunity to participate and to experience. To enter this exciting world, the student must walk through the doors of skill and desire and must develop his spirit, mind, and body. In high school, athletic competition becomes a door to maturity, and a world most rewarding to explore.

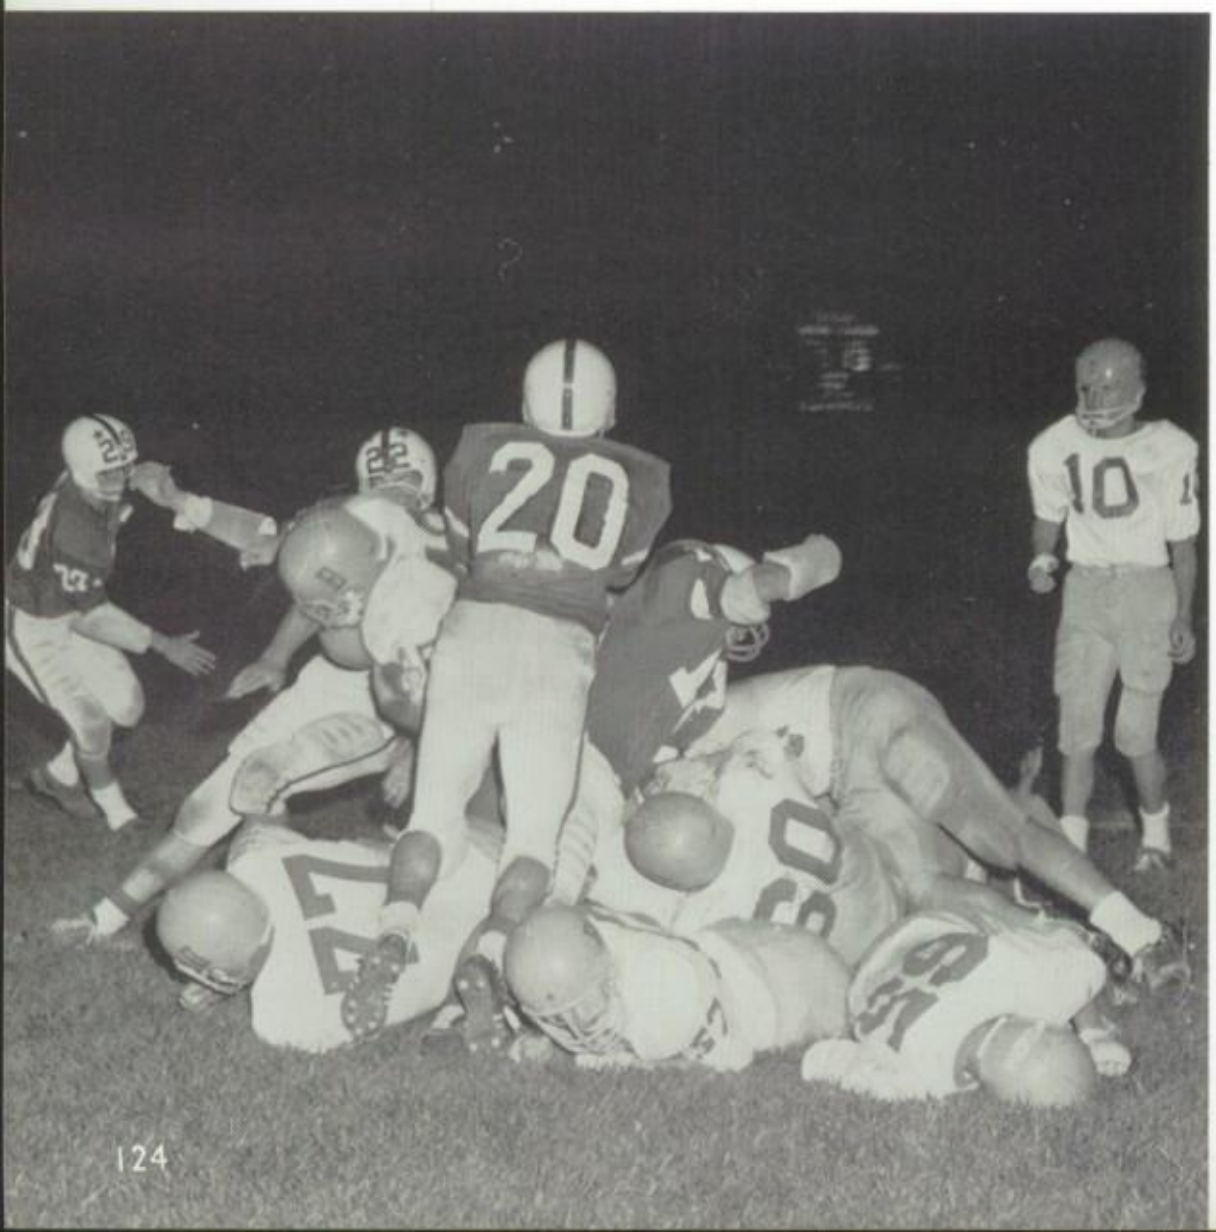
AVIATORS SECOND IN



With the second place finish and the excellent record of 8 wins and 2 losses, the 1964 Aviators soundly justified Coach Hollon's building strategy during the poor 1963 campaign. Among the team's outstanding accomplishments this year was the possession of the best defensive record in the league, allowing only 90 points while overrunning the league opposition with 168 points.

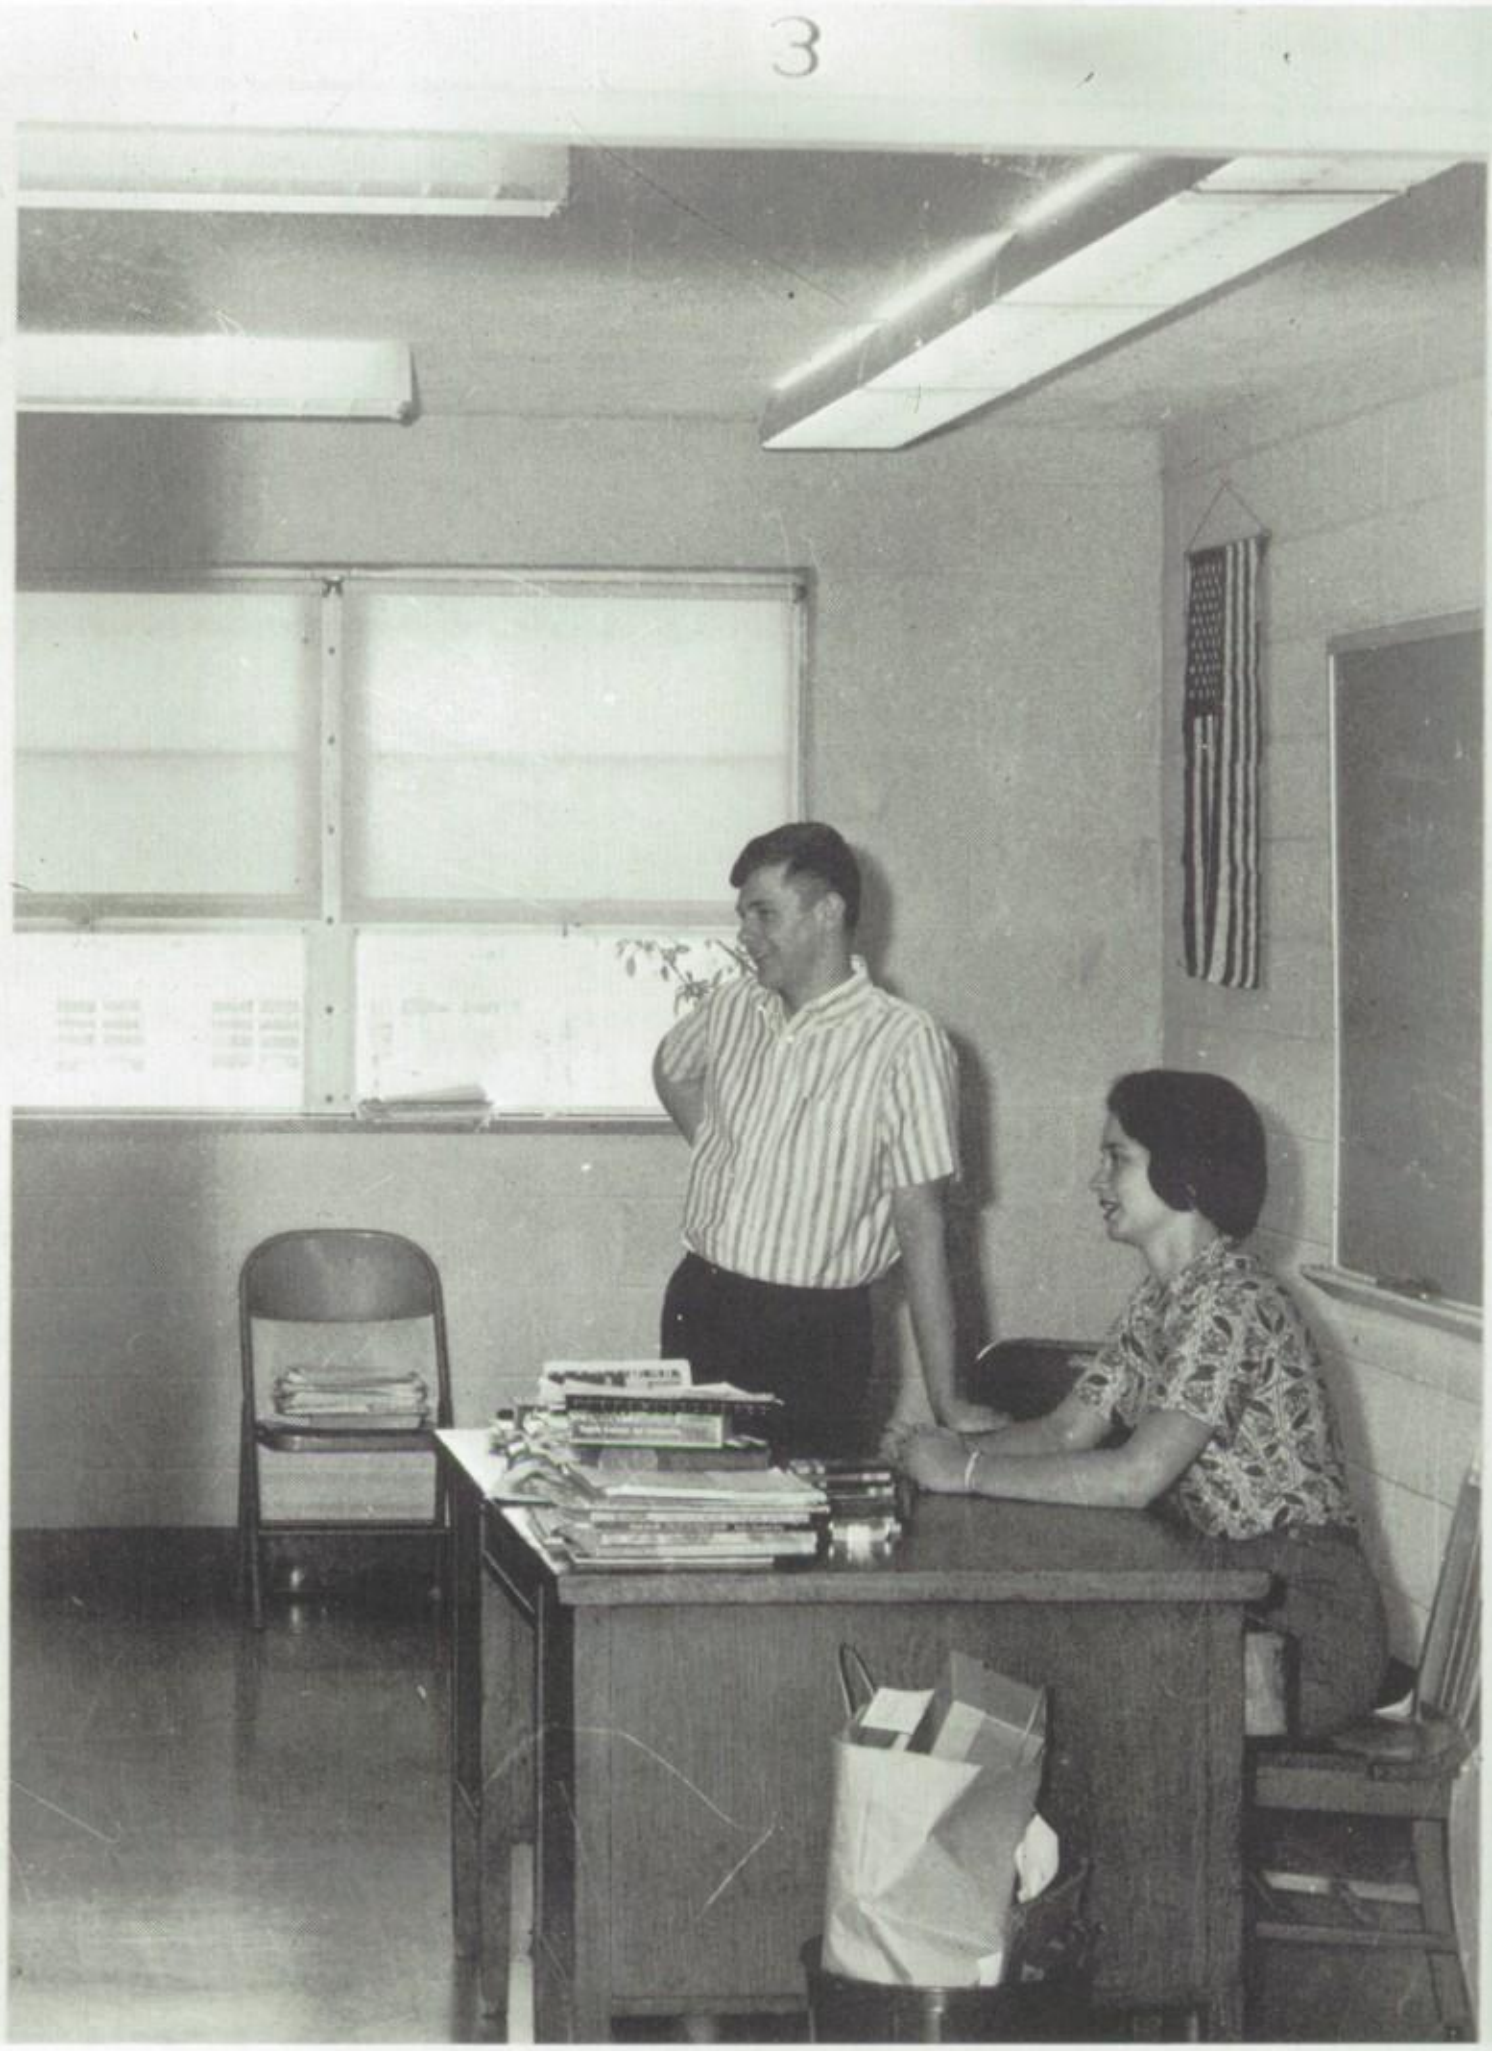
The Varsity Cheerleaders, besides appearing at all football and basketball games, spent much time in practice and in making banners and signs which were posted in the halls before the games. Loyal Butler fans signed their names to these "Victory" banners.

Pep Sessions, which were organized by the cheerleaders, sometimes had teachers, students, and administration personnel taking part.

The Varsity cheerleaders posed in front of the stands during one of the home football games.

Sue Lee accepted an award certificate from Miss Earhart at the football banquet.



ORGANIZATIONS

Within a high school of individualized effort and study, organizations become portals to group experience and social accomplishment. In them a student may participate in an interest shared by many, and may learn through discussing that interest.

All facets of life are mirrored in the many types of organizations: community life through service clubs, vocations through professional clubs, and recreation through specific interest clubs. As a student participates in these activities, he can view life, and profit from the knowledge gained.

The Butler High School Marching Band, directed by Mr. Robert Davis, had one of its most successful seasons this year. The 115 member band performed some unusual routines on the field, including a cha-cha by the entire group, and also provided enthusiasm for the football team's efforts. In addition, the entire unit attended the annual High School Band Day at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio.

TOLEDO TRIP ADDS TO ANNUAL CONCERT BAND ACTIVITIES

Jim Swearingen was the band's recipient of the Arion Award. He was selected by his fellow band members on the basis of such characteristics as musical ability, leadership, scholarship, and citizenship.

Mr. Davis directed the concert band as it rehearsed for its performances.

Band members worked diligently at their pancake supper to earn enough money for their trip to Toledo, where they presented a concert at Toledo Waite High School.

The concert bands of Butler and Northmont High Schools combined their talents to present an outstanding performance.

The Future Homemakers of America is one of the most active clubs in the high school. Aside from regular meetings, FHA does a special thing each month such as a particular field trip, or doing a service for a rest home or an orphanage. The members of this club have fun, help others, and still find time to learn things about their future job—to rear a family and help America prosper by providing homes for its people.

Other activities besides those pictured included a fall picnic, a potluck supper, a demonstration by a sandwich maker, a night at the theater to see "My Fair Lady", and a behind-the-scenes visit to Rikes.

Members enjoyed learning the art of cake decorating.

Mike Hennessey, from Vic Cassano's, gave a demonstration on pizza-making, and then supplied the club with free samples.

Brenda Easley registered parents attending Back-To-School Night.

The club at Butler known as the Future Teachers of America serves the school in many ways. While not called upon during this year to serve as substitutes as much as previously, still they were "on call" to help out at the elementaries or in high school when the supply of adult substitutes was exhausted.

In addition, they were invaluable as aides and guides during the two Parent-Teacher Conference days, Back To School Night, Career Night, and College Night, programs arranged by the Guidance Department.

FTA'ers-of-the-Month, members with the most points were, in order; Sally Brown, Virginia Moore, Kati Diehl, Karen Slagle, Linda White (for three months), Alan Donelson, and Mary Lou Zimmerman.

A day and night of revelry and feasting at the annual Latin Club Banquet entitled "Conventio In Olympo" climaxed the year's activities of this popular club.

Under the direction of Mike Roush, the lounge and cafeteria of the high school were transformed into an ancient Roman banquet hall. Scenery and props consisting of pillars and regal eagle, borrowed from the University of Dayton Latin Festival, added an authentic touch.

The slaves, after being on duty all day and being forced to carry their master's books from class to class, were given the privilege of serving their gods at the banquet. The gods and goddesses, dressed in appropriate attire, reclined on low couches (choir risers) for such tasty tidbits as Ova Diabolica (Devilish Eggs), Pullus et Potatio Acetaria (Chicken and Potato Salad), topped off with Parvae Placentae et Mala (Small cakes and Apples).

The gods and goddesses then assembled in the lounge around Juno and Jupiter, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Simpson, and Pluto, Mr. William Specht. A skit by Leslie Johnson, Anita Silver, and Anita Powers, a dance by Mary Alice Simpson, and a dance by the slaves of Hercules (the Kickline) completed the program of the evening.

SCIENCE CLUB STIMULATED RESEARCH

Tom Hodson ..... Co-President
Mary Alice Simpson ..... Co-President
Beverly Holland ..... Secretary
Gene Hohm ..... Treasurer

Science Club tried to promote a rocket club branch in correlation with Civil Air Patrol.

Several speakers promoted science careers.

The club was in charge of the science portion of the combined Science Fair and Open House. Signed certificates were awarded to students receiving the rating of superior, excellent, good, and satisfactory.

At Open House, Bob Gemin demonstrated his Superior Science project to Terry Voress.

The Spanish Classes also put on skits (right) under the direction of Mrs. Stewart. Cliff Kelto performed before an interested audience.

EDUCATION, INDUSTRY

OFFICERS

SITTING: Bob Lindsey, Dave Aycock.
STANDING: Ron Black, Larry Burnside, Dave Morgan.

Mr. George Mitchell, Program Director of Channel 22, was the guest speaker at the Vocational Employer-Employee Banquet. Ron Cannon and Dave Aycock are seated beside the speaker.

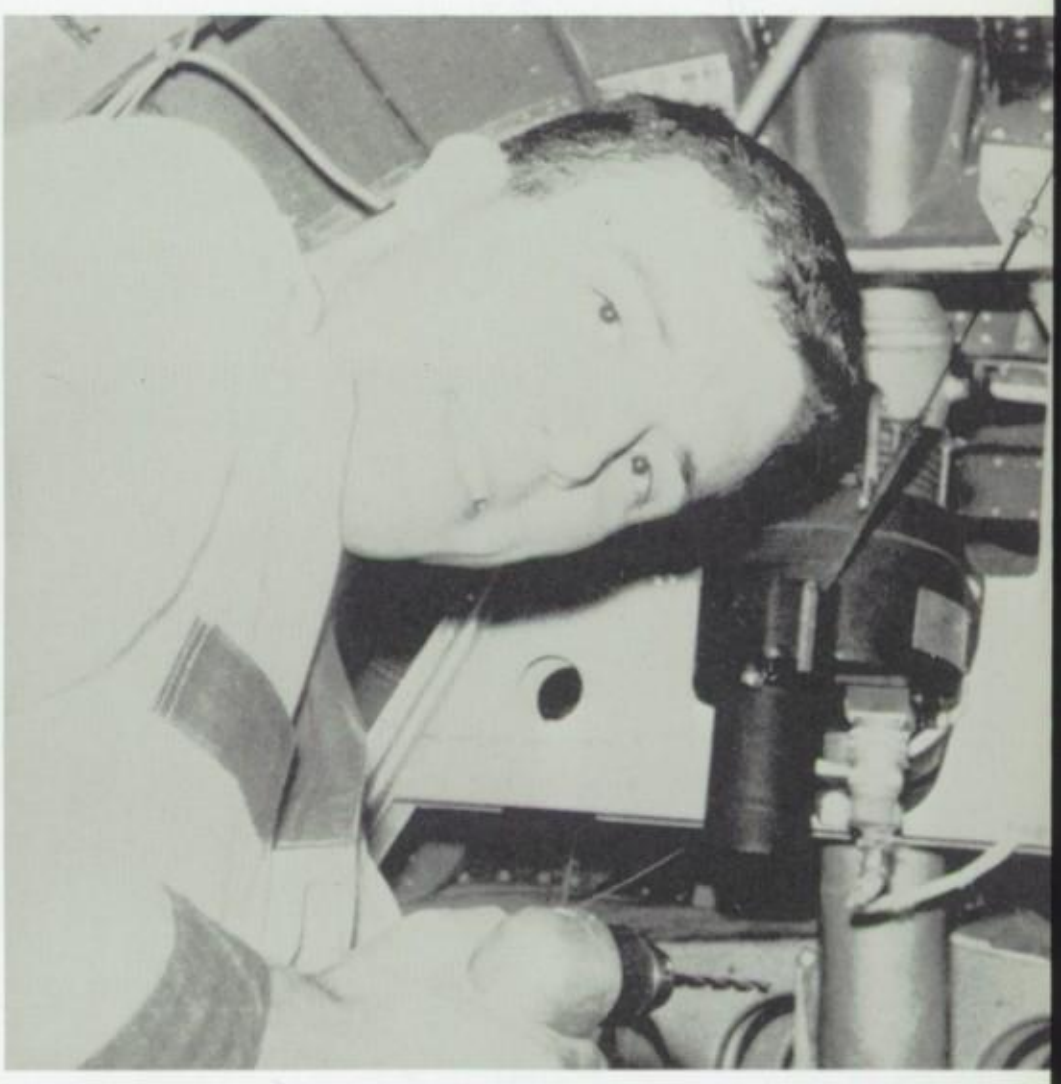
The members of the Vocational Industrial Club found that they could combine study with work, complete their high school education and still earn a salary to enable them to save toward the future, which might include additional education.

Regular meetings were held, usually in the classroom in the morning when all members were present. Various speakers gave the students information concerning a particular line of work. Mr. Robert Sherman, from the Vandalia Branch, Third National Bank, and Mr. Steve von Mohr, of Delco Products, were two of the speakers.

A delegation of the club attended both the fall and spring state conventions and, while in Columbus, visited the state capitol. Several field trips, also, were made by members.

COMBINED IN V.I.C.

Ron Black worked at Allied Plumbing.



Shannon Dunlap left school at noon to work at Ohio Aviation.

Y-TEENS SERVED THE

The Y-Teens' purpose was to uphold the ideals of the Y.W.C.A. in the school. Their service projects were of benefit both to the student body and to the community. The members enioyed various speakers at their meetings and ended the year with a mother-daughter banquet and installation of officers.

Often, members had to discuss the problem before arriving at a decision.

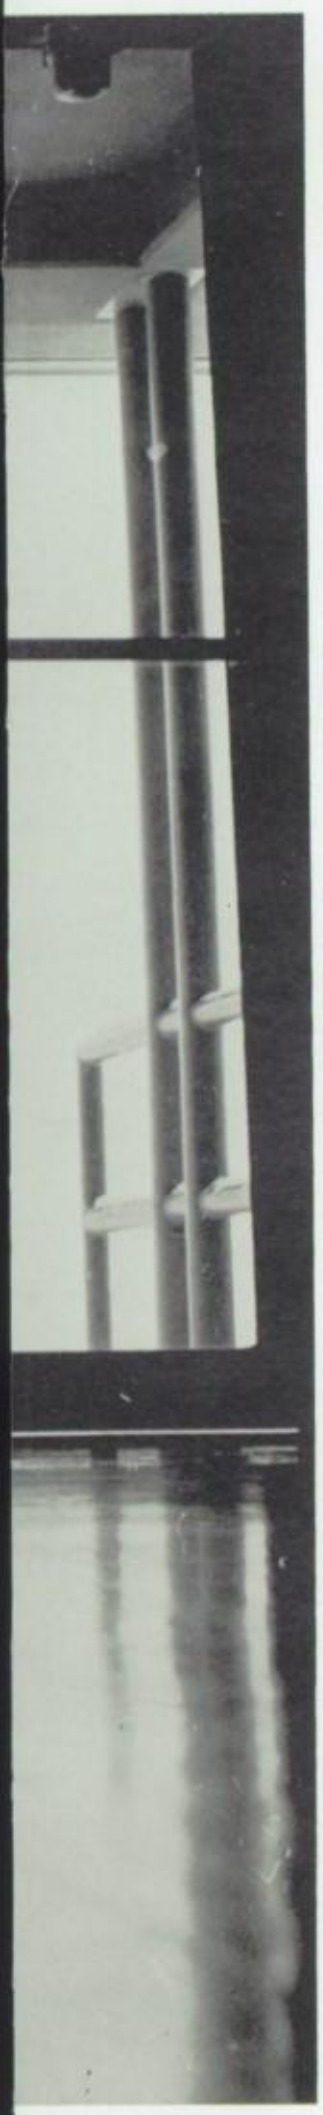
COMMUNITY

Girls help decorate for the annual Y-Teen turnabout.



ADVERTISING

Through these embracing doors, the "other" world can be seen. From the protective world of books and classrooms, athletics and dramatics, the student may walk into the spheres of social activity, community life, and business.

This latter area forms the backbone of America; its stress on individualism and competitive excellence creates and tests the strength of character in today's student. When the student approaches the business life for which he was prepared, he casts his lot with productive freedom and the essence of creative effort.

In addition to building, literally, America's democracy, business supports and encourages development in Society through its contributions of resources to worthy causes and aims, and its beneficial influence to Community life in general. It is in keeping with the spirit of creative business support that the enterprises of Vandalia contribute to the support of this yearbook.

Therefore, in grateful return, we dedicate this section to the advancement and support of Vandalia's business community.

A FINAL DOORWAY . . .

A yearbook is a record of the school year. It is a story in pictures; pictures of students, school events, the school itself. As one may well imagine, gathering the materials for this book and putting them together in a logical, interesting order, is a seemingly endless task.

On the yearbook staff, as in other organizations, there are people who do the work and those who do not. Without the tireless efforts of our advisor, Mrs. Marjorie Irwin, this book would be an impossibility. A special recognition should also go to Alan Donelson, Sharon Foster, Sharon Wolfe, Anita Hoyer, Grace Borchers, Scott Roth, Marsha McDowell, Karleen Bill and Sharon Beatty. These people worked with me throughout the school year and afterwards, so that you now have this record, the 1965 Airlog.
